Seattle, WA – April 2, 2010 – Moneytree, Inc. is proud to announce its Community Reward sponsorship of Washington's Most Wanted, a weekly community service program dedicated to helping keep Washington communities safe.

The show, which airs on Q13 FOX Fridays at 9:30 and 10:30pm and Saturdays at 10:30 and 11pm, highlights high-profile criminals and lets viewers know what they can do to help bring them to justice. Washington's Most Wanted is produced by Q13 Fox News in partnership with Crime Stoppers, Moneytree and the team of FOX's America's Most Wanted.

As the official Community Reward Sponsor, Moneytree will contribute $100 to Crime Stoppers each time a fugitive is caught through Washington's Most Wanted. To date, Washington's Most Wanted has captured 109 fugitives by working with law enforcement across Washington State. The program has become critical in assisting law enforcement catch criminals, while providing the public with ongoing information to keep their families and communities safe.

Moneytree has a strong history of supporting the community and sponsoring organizations that focus on financial literacy, youth and families. Moneytree has helped battle homelessness, hunger, cancer, child abuse and supported financial literacy training programs. They've also bolstered local organizations such as First Place School, Food Lifeline, Sea Mar Community Health Centers and Childhaven.

"For 27 years, Moneytree has worked to fulfill our mission to give back to the communities in which we live and work. We are excited to have found a new way to support the community. The work police officers undertake for the public is extraordinary and we are proud to support law enforcement in Washington," says Amy Hale, Moneytree Director of Communications.
